

Investor-state Dispute Resolution under TTIP

Project

Duration

Dec 2013

Rule on investor-state dispute settlement (ISDS) offer investors the possibility to sue their host states for alleged breaches of an investment agreement. Are such rules in the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership (TTIP) agreement necessary? What risks are there for environmental regulation? Will states have to pay compensation for environmental protection measures? The Ecologic Institute analyzed the potential influence of ISDS rules in TTIP on environmental regulation. The resulting study is available online.

Funding

Heinrich Böll Foundation (HBS), Germany

Partner

Ecologic Institute, Germany

Team

Dr. Christiane Gerstetter
Dr. Nils Meyer-Ohlendorf

Duration

Dec 2013

Project ID

221-15

Keywords

Finance
Trade

TTIP, Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership, US, EU, investment, trade, investor-state dispute settlement, ISDS, ICSID
United States of America, Europe, Germany

Source URL: <https://www.ecologic.eu/10404>