

Creating Networks for the Transition to a Bio-based and Circular Economy

Presentation

Panel discussion

Date

23 May 2017

Location

Berlin, Germany

Panel discussion

Dr. Zoritzia Kiresiewa
Holger Gerdes

On 23 May 2017 a CommBeBiz webinar featured a discussion with Ecologic Institute's Holger Gerdes and Zoritzia Kiresiewa, on the topic "Creating Networks for the Transition to a Bio-based and Circular Economy." They gave deeper insights into recommendations for effective engagement in the bio-based and circular economy. These recommendations were published in a BioSTEP policy paper, which is available online.

The policy paper builds on the results of BioSTEP's stakeholder engagement activities, including an online consultation, a series of policy workshops, and on the results of an in-depth analysis of participatory practices in national and regional bioeconomy strategies.

Panel discussion

Dr. Zoritzia Kiresiewa
Holger Gerdes

Date

23 May 2017

Location

Berlin, Germany

Language

English

Project

Promoting Stakeholder Engagement and Public Awareness for a Participative Governance of the European Bioeconomy \(BioSTEP\)

Project ID

2801

Keywords

Economics

Education

Governance

Resource Conservation + Circular Economy

bioeconomy, bio-based products and processes, participative governance, stakeholder engagement, living labs

Europe

webinar

Source URL: <https://www.ecologic.eu/14775>