

Public Participation in European River Basin Management

Lessons from the HarmoniCOP project

Publication

Policy Brief

Citation

Kranz, Nicole; Dagmar Ridder and Mita Patel 2006: Public Participation in European River Basin Management - Lessons from the HarmoniCOP project. Ecologic Briefs on International Relations and Sustainable Development. R. Andreas Kraemer and Sascha Möller-Kraenner. Berlin: Ecologic - Institute for International and European Environmental Policy.

This Ecologic Brief gives an overview of the main results and policy implications of the HarmoniCOP project. HarmoniCOP provides a comprehensive knowledge base for public participation in water management. Centred around the concept of social learning, the project draws lessons from past approaches to public participation in EU Member States and gains insights from case studies conducted in nine European river basins. The Ecologic Brief is available for download.

Language

English

Authorship

Dr. Nicole Kranz
Dagmar Ridder
Mita Patel

Published by

Ecologic Institute, Germany

Year

2006

Dimension

24 pp.

ISBN

3-937085-18-1

ISSN

1611-4787

Project

Public Participation and the European Water Framework Directive \(HarmoniCOP\)

Project ID

1975

Table of contents

- Preface
- Objective of the HarmoniCOP policy brief
- Policy background: Public participation (PP) in the WFD
- Project results
- Handbook: "Learning Together to Manage Together – Improving Participation in Water Management"
- Policy implications
- Outlook
- Further reading

Keywords

EU

Water

Water Framework Directive, WFD, public participation, PP, water governance, consultation, information, active involvement, river basin management, social learning, good practice, case study, Ribble, Meuse, Elbe, Dordogne, Guadiana, Rhone, Danube, Europe

Source URL: <https://www.ecologic.eu/1835>