Dr. Nils Meyer-Ohlendorf testified in the Bundestag on investment protection under CETA on 15 December 2014 (Committee of Economy and Energy). He argued that investment protection in CETA is superfluous because the EU and Canada already provide high levels of investment protection through their national legal systems.

Nils Meyer-Ohlendorf's statement [3] [pdf, 175 kB, German] is available for download or in Bundestag document 18 (9) 300. Frank Capellan commented the results of the consultation for the Deutschlandradio, Germany's national radio programme.
