How to Integrate European Lessons Learned on Climate Laws in the Slovenian Context?

In the webinar series "Why do we need a climate law?" Matthias Duwe, Head Climate at Ecologic Institute, presented three key elements of a sound climate law: (1) the coordination of long-term planning and short-term policy, (2) monitoring progress, and (3) mechanisms for coordinating sectoral policies. In particular, he focused on the Slovenian climate law and showed how to adopt the European lessons learned within the Slovenian context.

Focus Association for Sustainable Development organized the webinar to highlight the importance of a national legal framework for the implementation of climate policies in order to reach the target set in the Paris Agreement.
- "Paris Compatible" Governance: long-term policy frameworks to drive transformational change
- A Climate Law for Europe
- Klimaschutzgesetze in Europa - Von anderen lernen
- Klimaschutzgesetze in Deutschland - In guter Gesellschaft
- Ein europäisches Klimaschutzgesetz
- Klimaschutzgesetze in Europa
- Landesklimaschutzgesetze in Deutschland
- What is the Use of a Climate Change Act at Federal State's Level?

Funding
European Climate Foundation (ECF), Netherlands

Organizer
Focus Association for Sustainable Development, Slovenia

Speaker
Matthias Duwe

Team
Matthias Duwe
Clara Deniz Oldenburg

Date
5 March 2020

Location
online, Slovenia

Language
English

Project ID
2159

Keywords
climate law, climate legislation, climate policy, EU, European Union, climate neutral, renewable energy, energy efficiency, transformation, decarbonisation, Paris agreement, European Parliament, European Commission, legislation, legal acts, legal text, carbon footprint, climate target, governance regulation, energy union, Slovenia, Europe

Source URL (modified on 04/07/2020 - 07:31): https://www.ecologic.eu/17349

Links