Ecologic Institute 2010 Milestone: 15 Years

This year Ecologic Institute turns 15. Since its founding, Ecologic Institute has built a reputation for excellence in transdisciplinary and policy-relevant research. As an environmental think tank, Ecologic Institute uses its extensive project experience and network of partners on both sides of the Atlantic to address a broad range of environmental challenges.

Since its founding, Ecologic Institute has been an active member of the European research community. So far we have been involved in almost 50 projects supported by the European Commission's DG Research. Ecologic Institute collaborates on fundamental scientific issues as well as applied research, focusing on the development and refinement of advanced scientific methods. Specialising also in the management of international cooperations, Ecologic Institute often contributes to the communication between science and policy communities, as well as to information dissemination.
