Annemarie van der Westhuysen

Intern

Annemarie van der Westhuysen was an intern at Ecologic Institute in Washington DC. She provided support in the editing of texts and with translation from German, Dutch and French into English, as well as with research. She is an English native speaker, and also speaks fluent German, French and Dutch.

Annemarie van der Westhuysen has been working as a translator and editor for over 5 years, primarily from Dutch to English. Her experience largely covers general texts such as press releases, websites, marketing texts and film scripts, but also includes texts on shipping and logistics.

She studied French and German at the University of Stellenbosch in South Africa and lived and worked in the Netherlands from 2005 to 2010.
