Karolin Jean

Bank Clerk

Office Manager

Karolin Jean worked with Ecologic Institute as an Office Manager. She was responsible for administrative and project-related support for our research team in Washington DC and coordinated daily office activities. She works in English as well as German.

After earning her degree in banking, Karolin started out as a marketing assistant in the telecommunications industry before becoming a Product Specialist for IN-Services. Karolin's following employment was in the retail industry, where she worked as a store manager until she moved to the USA. Then, aside from working in the American retail industry, she was able to obtain knowledge in Internet research while working for Google.

Karolin is currently pursuing a degree in business administration and information technology.

She has been living in Virginia since March 2009.
