

Impacts of the triple planetary crisis on human and ecosystem health

Climate change, biodiversity loss, and pollution generate cascading effects that are amplified by i.a. socio-economic inequalities, global interconnectedness, and pollutant interactions. The resulting impacts undermine both ecosystem health – through soil degradation, reduced biodiversity, and loss of ecosystem services – and human health, by increasing chronic disease risks, zoonotic outbreaks, malnutrition, and mental health challenges.

